

Low Rise Contract Administration

Course Information Sheet

About the course

This course is delivered by Master Builders Association of Victoria (RTO no 3935).

Planning for and supervising onsite construction work requires organizational skills, meticulous record keeping and knowledge of regulatory and local body requirements. This national accredited short course explores these topics as well as scheduling of labour and materials, personnel site responsibilities, application of quality management systems, purchasing and record flow, and the preparation and submission of condition reports.

After successful completion of the 4-day course, participants will be awarded a Statement of Attainment for three (3) nationally accredited units of competency:

- CPCBC4007A Plan building or construction work
- CPCBC4005A Produce labour and material schedules for ordering
- CPCBC4008B Conduct on-site supervision of building and construction projects

Learning outcomes

Students will have gained the skills and knowledge to:

- Implement project scheduling strategies;
- Apply regulatory, quality control and administrative procedures to progress and complete construction projects;
- Effectively plan, communicate, allocate and manage physical, financial and human resources.

Who should study this course?

This course is suitable for:

- Builders, contract administrators, site managers, foremen, construction managers
- Other building practitioners involved with the management of small to medium sized building businesses as well as the planning of onsite construction work.

Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) or Credit Transfer

Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) involves assessment of any relevant skills and knowledge you have previously gained through learning and work activities (including formal, informal and non-formal) to determine if it matches any unit learning outcomes in the course you are studying. You will need to provide evidence to support your application.

Credit transfer means that if you have already successfully completed a unit of competency, you will be given credit for that unit and you will not have to study it again. The unit code and title must be exactly the same as the one you are seeking credit for. If the unit has been recoded, Master Builder's staff will determine if it is an equivalent unit. You will need Statement/s of Attainment to support your application.

If you decide to apply for RPL or credit transfer, we advise you to do it as soon as possible. The process takes some time and, if it is granted, you may not need to attend some classes.

Contact the Training Department on (03) 9411 4555 to discuss whether either of these pathways might be appropriate for you.

NOTE ON FEES: For information on RPL fees, contact the Training Department on (03) 9411 4555. RPL at Master Builders is not subsidised by Commonwealth and State government funding under the Skills First contract.

There is no charge for Credit Transfer.
